I'm so glad you're here. Whether you're brand new to phototherapy patches or you've been curious about them for a while, you've taken a wonderful step toward supporting your wellbeing in a gentle, natural way.

LifeWave patches use a technology called phototherapy — they interact with the light your body naturally emits to trigger beneficial responses within your cells. There are no drugs, no chemicals entering your body, and no needles. It's elegant, non-invasive, and backed by over 80 clinical studies.

The 10 tips in this guide are designed to help you get the most from your patch experience. They're simple, practical, and drawn from what I've seen make the biggest difference for people just like you. I hope they serve you well.

With warmth and light,

10 Simple Tips to Support Your Wellbeing with LifeWave Phototherapy Patches

01 Start with Consistency, Not Perfection

LifeWave patches work best when used consistently. You don't need a complicated routine — just commit to wearing your patch each day at roughly the same time. Morning is ideal for most people, as it aligns with your body's natural energy cycles. Think of it like watering a plant: steady, regular care produces the best results over time.

◆ Pro tip: Keep your patches on your nightstand so you see them first thing each morning.

02 Stay Well Hydrated

Phototherapy works by interacting with your body's own light and energy systems. Keeping well hydrated supports optimal cellular communication throughout your body. Aim for at least 8 glasses of water a day — more if you're active or in a warm climate. Many people notice an enhanced sense of wellbeing simply by pairing their patch routine with better hydration habits.

◆ Pro tip: Try a glass of water right when you apply your patch to make it a seamless habit.

03 Place Your Patch on Clean, Dry Skin

For the best contact and adhesion, apply your patch to clean, dry skin. Areas of acupuncture points recommended in LifeWave guidelines are specifically chosen to optimise the phototherapy signal. Avoid applying over lotions, oils, or damp skin, as this can reduce adhesion and potentially affect performance.

◆ Pro tip: Pat the area gently dry before applying if you've just showered.

04 Support Your Body with Gentle Movement

Regular, gentle movement — whether that's a morning walk, light stretching, or yoga — works synergistically with your patch routine. Movement promotes circulation, which helps distribute the benefits of improved cellular activity throughout your body. You don't need to run a marathon; even 20 minutes of walking daily makes a meaningful difference.

◆ Pro tip: A short walk after applying your patch is a wonderful way to start the day.

05 Prioritise Quality Sleep

LifeWave's IceWave and Aeon patches are particularly popular for supporting restful sleep. Regardless of which patch you're using, protecting your sleep is one of the most powerful things you can do for your overall wellness. Aim for 7–9 hours, keep a consistent bedtime, and reduce screen time in the hour before bed to allow your body to wind down naturally.

◆ Pro tip: A consistent sleep schedule — even on weekends — dramatically improves sleep quality.

06 Keep a Simple Wellness Journal

Jotting down how you feel each morning and evening — energy, mood, sleep quality — helps you spot patterns over time. It doesn't need to be elaborate: even a few words a day gives you a valuable window into how your body is responding. Many people discover their biggest improvements happen in areas they weren't even focusing on.

◆ Pro tip: A simple 1–10 rating for energy and mood takes less than 60 seconds.

07 Nourish Your Body with Whole Foods

Your patches support your body's own systems — and those systems thrive when fuelled well. Focus on whole, nutrient-dense foods: colourful vegetables, quality proteins, healthy fats, and minimally processed carbohydrates. Even small improvements in your diet can amplify the benefits you notice from your patch routine.

◆ Pro tip: Adding one extra serving of leafy greens each day is one of the easiest wins.

08 Manage Stress Intentionally

Chronic stress is one of the biggest drains on your body's energy and resilience. Simple practices like slow, deep breathing, a five-minute meditation, or even stepping outside for fresh air can significantly reduce your stress load. LifeWave's Aeon patch is specifically designed to help support your body's stress response — pairing it with intentional stress management practices can be especially powerful.

◆ Pro tip: Three slow, deep breaths before a stressful task can shift your entire physiology.

09 Connect with a Supportive Community

Wellness journeys are always better shared. Whether it's a friend, a family member, or a community group, having people around you who understand what you're doing — and why — makes the journey more enjoyable and sustainable. I'd love to be that support for you. Feel free to reach out any time with questions, wins, or simply to share how you're going.

◆ Pro tip: Sharing a small win with someone you trust can powerfully reinforce your new habits.

10 Be Patient — Your Body Heals at Its Own Pace

Every person's body is unique, and results from phototherapy can vary. Some people notice changes within days; for others it takes several weeks of consistent use. This is completely normal. Trust the process, stay consistent, and celebrate every small improvement along the way. Your body is always working toward greater balance and wellbeing — you're simply giving it the best possible support.

◆ Pro tip: Take a photo or write a note on Day 1 so you can look back and appreciate how far you've come.
